ASSAULT SUSPECT ARRESTED IN COURTENAY

Jack Twist, right, arrested in Courtenay in connection with the beating of a Vancouver couple last week, enters a police car in handcuffs. A Vancouver detective flanks him. Mr. and Mrs.

Gov't University Fee Aid Called 'Inadequate'

VANCOUVER (CP)—A system whereby the provincial government will pay part of the fees of above-average university students was criticized here today. University students here said they would seek a meeting with Education Minister Peterson to argue the scheme's "inadequacies."

clouding the real issue—that the university needs more money to operate more effectively.

The plan was announced by Premier Bennett in his budget speech Friday. The government will pay half the fees of first-class students in senior matriculation to University of B.C. and Victoria College.

It will also pay one-third of the fees of the top 2,000 students in the second-class bracket—65 to 80 per cent marks.

Neville Scarie, dean of the UBC college of education, said that refusal by the government to pay the $2,000,000 requested would mean less money for the faculty and result in "dulled" enthusiasm. As a result, first-class professors would be tempted away.

It was argued earlier that without a $2,000,000 government grant, students' fees would have to be increased by $100-a-term. After a meeting of the university student council its president Chuck Connaghan said:

"The spectacular nature of the government fee-sharing scheme clouds the real issue involved—that is, the government refused to give the university the money it needs to operate effectively next year."

"By its refusal, the government will force the board of governors to raise fees upwards of $100 and to pay less than competitive salaries to the faculty," he said.

Ontario police said they believe the safe-crackers are an expert gang and apparently worked throughout the night to cut an 18-inch hole through the six-inch steel door of the vault in St. Catharines.

$423,000 IN TAKE

Trust company officials Friday reported $423,000 in cash and bonds were stolen. A previous estimate of $346,000 was amended when the company issued a list of $70,000 worth of government bonds missing.

The thieves also burned the front sections of 30 safety deposit boxes to open them.

Police compared the theft with one in Brockville, Ont., last May when at least $3,500,000 in stocks, bonds, jewelry and cash were stolen from the vault of the Brockville Trust and Savings Company. Several arrests were made but police believed part of the safe-cracking gang is still at large.

In St. Catharines, it was reported the Montreal investigation was started by a phone call to St. Catharines police last Monday. The caller said two earloads of men left Montreal the Friday before, heading towards St. Catharines.

Radio Telescope Expected Shortly For Installation

Shipment of a 43-ft.-diam. radio telescope for installation at White Lake is expected shortly, according to the National Employment Service.

The N.E.S. makes the report in its monthly summary of employment, in which a road-clearing project for the telescope is noted. Twenty-three freight cars will bring the precision instrument from Boston.

Federal government Clerk of Works, Hayden Stump, is currently supervising clearance of the site, approximately 15 miles south of Penticton.

Loaded Trucks Use Artificial Ice Bridge

EDMONTON (CP)—Trucks loaded with tons of gravel rolled across an artificial ice bridge over the North Saskatchewan River a few miles northeast of here today.

The first truck crossed at 5 a.m. MST. Its driver said it was just like crossing a road.

Altogether, 112 trucks bearing loads of as much as 15 tons of gravel each were to cross the bridge today.

Two feet of sub-surface ice on the river route is being sustained by a 75-horsepower ice-making plant, the same type used to make ice in curling and hockey rinks. Another foot of natural ice has been built on the artificial layer.

Plastic pipes carrying refrigerant from the plant stretch 150 feet across the channel of the 300-foot-wide river. They form the 30-foot-wide highway of ice used by the trucks.

Twin Bridges Sand and Gravel Co. Ltd., who are financing the risky venture, hope the bridge will bear the weight of the trucks until late March. By then, the company hopes to have 200,000 tons of gravel hauled into Edmonton on the shorter route the bridge provides. The bridge is located near the company's gravel quarry.

A sudden thaw provides the element of risk. It could cause an ice breakup on the river, sending the pipes floating away and possibly damaging the ice-making plant, which is located on the river bank. However, Twin Bridges engineers say the bridge can withstand 50-degree temperatures for several days.

Negotiations Resume in CBC Strike

OTTAWA (CP)—After an overnight adjournment, negotiations between the CBC and striking French-language producers resumed at 11:25 a.m. today with no indications of when a settlement may be reached.

The disputants had met from noon Sunday until 11 p.m. While there were indications Sunday night that differences had been narrowed, the prospect of an imminent settlement appeared clouded by a reported view of the producers that they wanted a "package deal" involving other unions.

The strike has affected 1,200 non-striking employees of the CBC in Montreal who have been respecting picket lines since the producers went on strike Dec. 25 demanding recognition of the Association of Realisateurs de Montreal (CCCL) as their bargaining agent.

Armed RCMP Stand Guard Over Strikers

GRAND FALLS, Nfld. (CP)—Armed RCMP continued to stand guard here today over 70 striking International Woodworkers of America (IWA) loggers.

The strikers were herded into the make-shift armories jail Sunday by RCMP wearing steel helmets after the loggers allegedly drove 51 non-striking woodsmen from two camps into a sub-zero blizzard early Saturday.

The men driven from the camps in the nearby Sandy Lake area had to walk between 10 and 15 miles to the nearest shelter. Some were only partially clad and 50-mph-an-hour gales whipped snow into a howling blizzard.

Barge Hits Mains; Water Supply Cut

VANCOUVER (CP)—Water supply in thousands of Vancouver homes was cut off today and authorities said an oil barge that crashed into the Second Narrows Bridge Sunday night may have damaged water mains and caused the shortage.

Waterworks officials said they believe at least one of the mains running along the bed of Burrard Inlet, just east of the bridge, may have been damaged by the half-sunk barge.

The barge hit the bridge about 10 p.m. Sunday and floated free on the incoming tide 5½ hours later. It was badly holed and the stern was deep in the water.

Twice while five tugs tried to move it to a buoy 2,000 feet east of the bridge, the stern struck bottom.

The barge, 100 feet long and with a capacity of 115,000 gallons, was being towed by the tug D and D when it struck the bridge. Skipper Colin DeLong had to release the tow line and take aboard bargeman Archie Carpenter.

'Not Responsibility Of Group'—Martin

VICTORIA (CP)—A proposal that the public accounts committee be permitted to examine accounts of government agencies was turned down by the Social Credit majority on the committee today.

The suggestion was made by P. A. Gibbs (L-Oak Bay). He asked the committee be empowered to study accounts of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, the Toll Bridges and Highways Authority and the Workmen's Compensation Board.

He was supported by Opposition Leader Strachan and Randolph Harding (CCF-Kaslo-Slocan).

Health Minister Martin said such accounts "are beyond the responsibility of the committee." Mr. Strachan argued the agencies were government-controlled and the committee should have the right to go into their accounts, especially the highways and bridges authority because it is in receipt of a government subsidy annually.

Ferry Action 'Up To Federal Gov't'

OTTAWA (CP)—Transport Minister Hees indicated today the government does not plan to interfere with the announced decision of the Canadian Pacific Railway to discontinue its winter ferry service between Victoria and Vancouver on Feb. 26.

Replying to a Commons question by Opposition Leader Pearson, Mr. Hees said he can find nothing to show that maintenance of the service is a constitutional or legal responsibility of the federal government.

VICTORIA (CP)—Attorney General Robert Bonner says only the federal government can take "the most effective action" to force the Canadian Pacific Railway to continue its winter ferry service between here, the British Columbia mainland and Seattle, Wash.

He said Sunday he will probably make a full statement today in the legislature on the CPR's proposal to stop the triangle service Feb. 26.

Mr. Bonner discussed the subject by telephone Sunday with Federal Works Minister Green in Ottawa.

"It appears the most effective action can be taken by the federal government," Mr. Bonner said. "They have greater responsibility, although we have the greater concern in the matter."

UNDER STUDY

He said the federal government is looking into the matter.

The attorney-general said the present situation is similar to that of last summer when CPR ferry men struck. The federal government passed emergency legislation forcing the men back to work.

Mr. Bonner said he had studied the terms of B.C.'s union with Canada, searching for some legal means of compelling the CPR ferries to continue operations, but reached no "rewarding" conclusions.

The CPR also planned to abandon altogether its service between Victoria and Port Angeles, Wash., across the Strait of Juan de Fuca.

Indonesia Gets U.S. Weapons

JAKARTA (AP)—The United States is selling Indonesia enough light weapons and vehicles to equip 20 new battalions, or about 14,000 troops. It is the first major sale of American military equipment to the island republic in several years.

The deal also includes one navy ship—type not disclosed—and other navy and air force items. U.S. Ambassador Howard P. Jones informed Foreign Minister Subandrio on Sunday night that President Eisenhower had approved the sale. Jones did not announce the size of the shipment, but unofficial reports said it would be worth about $10,000,000.

FAITH IN SUKARNO

The sale was taken as an indication that the United States has faith that President Sukarno's government will remain independent of the Soviet bloc as well as of the West in the cold war. The rebels against an insurrection against the central government last February. The government has defeated most organized resistance, but unofficial reports say there are some 4,000 rebels still at large, many of them fighting in small bands.

The Indonesian government tried to buy arms from the United States early in 1953, but Washington was cool to the idea then. Indonesian officers then arranged to buy arms from some Communist countries.

MONTREAL (CP)—A group of Ontario detectives left today for St. Catharines, Ont., with three men arrested here in connection with a $423,000 safe-cracking Jan. 31 at the Premier Trust Company in the Ontario community.

The three suspects were identified as Peter the Russian Stepanoff, 40, Henri Samson, 45, and Moe Yacknin, 40, all of Montreal. President Suspended by Teamsters Union Local TORONTO (CP) — A full-scale revolt against the authority of Teamsters Union President James Hoffa burst into the open Sunday at a meeting of local 933 whose angry, shouting members suspended their own president and voted to houseclean their ranks.

The 450 restless teamsters crowded into the General Truck Drivers Hall to settle complaints about a new contract negotiated last year by the union executive and management. There also have been accusations of irregularities in the vote for ratification.

The local's internal dissension had reached the point where Mr. Hoffa had instructed I. M. (Casey) Dodds, Canadian director, to take personal charge. Simultaneously, Mr. Hoffa took the inquiry into the collusion charges and demands for the resignation of local 938 president Kenneth McDougall out of the hands of the teamsters' joint council No. 52 which controls Hamilton and Toronto.

TRUSTEESHIP TRIED
What started Sunday's uproar was the presentation of a motion to put the local into trusteeship.

Convicts, Law Help Build Nest Egg for Slayer

SEATTLE — (AP) — Convicts and the law joined Sunday to build a nest egg for an old murderer.

They will help Guido Grassi, 78, who was judged sane and then pardoned last week by Governor Albert D. Rosellini after spending some 35 years in the Washington State Penitentiary. He will be deported to Italy next weekend at his own request.

Grassi came to the United States as a young man. Instead of making his fortune, as he had hoped, he wound up behind bars for killing three men in an argument. He was convicted for one of the killings. Sentenced to hang, he escaped death when he was declared insane.

PROSECUTOR

King County prosecutor Charles O. Carroll read of the old man's case and called Grassi's lawyer, Al Blichl. He said he wanted to contribute something to Grassi's meager funds.

Carroll was joined by a number of Seattle officers. "Count me in," said justice of the peace Evans Monolides when he heard about the collection. Meanwhile at Walla Walla, the convicts at the state prison had called a meeting.

IN SEARS-ROEBUCK CENTRES

Two Unions Start Organizing Drives

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two separate organizing drives are under way to try to win union bargaining rights over the 200,000 employees of Sears, Roebuck and Company — the continent's largest general merchandising concern.

The giant Teamsters Union, already claiming more than 1,600,000 members, is using a fireside approach in Sears employees' homes. This is aimed at an estimated 100,000 mail order, warehouse and truck-driver employees both in the United States and Canada.

"It's the biggest organizing drive labor has tried in 20 years," said Harold J. Gibbons, teamsters executive vice-president.

James R. Hoffa, teamsters boss, said "we won't hesitate to strike if necessary."

TWO-UNION ATTACK

The Retail Clerks International Association, a 350,000-member affiliate of the AFL-CIO, is working to organize Sears retail store employees in 728 stores from coast to coast.

The RCIA has just fattened its organizing fund to $2,000,000 for recruiting activity at Sears and other national retail chain store operations.

Sears, for its part, isn't being stampeded. When the teamsters kicked off their drive last week and began distributing pamphlets to Sears workers, a company spokesman said its employees "have nothing to gain from membership in the teamsters."

"Sears management intends to make certain," he said, "that all employees fully understand their legal rights, and that they are fully familiar with the facts and issues involved."

Sears sales during its 1958 fiscal year reached a record of nearly $4,000,000,000. The company says only about 13,500 of its employees, or about seven per cent, now are covered by union agreements.

INVOLVED IN SCANDAL

Sears is a firm that, according to U.S. Senate racketeering investigating committee testimony, employed Nathan W. Shefferman of Chicago as a labor relations consultant. It was charged at hearings last year that Shefferman's main task was to keep unions out of Sears.

AGRICULTURE IRELAND'S LARGEST INDUSTRY

Various woods make paper.

hundreds of thousands of dollars in teamsters union funds for providing teamsters officials with discount merchandise for their personal use.

Hoffa has thrown over 200 organizers into the current Sears drive, saying "we're not kidding ourselves; this will be a tough campaign."

Sam Baron, field director for the teamsters warehouse division, said the organizers are making house-to-house contacts with Sears workers seeking to persuade them to become union members.

"We want to eliminate any possible fear the employee might have," Baron said. "We make a prior arrangement to see if it will be all right before we visit the employee's home."

HIT FIFTEEN CENTRES

The teamsters are concentrating particularly on the 70,000 Sears employees at mail order houses in Chicago, Minneapolis, Kansas City, Boston, Philadelphia, Greensboro, N.C., Atlanta, Dallas, Memphis, Los Angeles and Seattle, plus four more in Canada.

The teamsters and RCIA don't seem to be fighting each other's efforts—or co-operating too much either. They may clash over organizing certain employees. The teamsters say they will go after retail store employees whom they regard as part of warehouse or mail order house units.

There are 101 daily newspapers in Canada. Every day they roll out more than 4,000,000 copies to do a herculean job of helping to sell Canada's automobiles from COAST to COAST.

Car dealers and daily newspapers have much in common. Both are upstanding local

Car dealers, like others, have learned that the daily newspaper puts plenty of weight behind an advertiser's sales message, too. That's why newspapers, each year, carry the biggest share of automotive advertising. Use this giant to put the weight behind your advertising.

City Orders Native Sons' Flag Removed

TORONTO (CP)—City officials ordered a Native Sons' Canadian flag design hauled down from the flagpole at Alexander Muir Park today. It will be replaced by the Red Ensign.

The Native Sons' flag, which has a maple leaf on a green background, was also hoisted Sunday on the University of Toronto campus.

Bernard Blum, vice-president of the Toronto branch of the Native Sons organization, said he knew nothing about how they came to be hoisted. His organization had sold hundreds of the flags since they were introduced last year.

Park's Commissioner George Bell ordered the flag hauled down immediately. "We're flying the Red Ensign and the Union Jack in all our city parks. When we use our supply of Jacks we are going to fly nothing but Ensigns," he said.

The comments arose from present uncertainty over where the new federal building in Oliver is to be located.

New Record Set at Sum'land Library

SUMMERLAND — In January circulation at the Centennial branch here of the Okanagan Regional library exceeded that of the same month last year by 1,135 of which 816 were books for junior borrowers. This is a record in monthly borrowing.

Mrs. Jack Dunsdon, custodian, reports that more people are using the branch as a reading room while the children's table is popular with many boys and girls.

The new 14-foot mahogany desk donated by Summerland Women's Institute as its Jubilee project speeds up the custodian's work, Mrs. Dunsdon says.

It was the first such offense for Gabriel, who lives in Pentiction Indian Reserve. He was arrested south of the city.

Revised Tri-Party Contract Now in Hands of Growers

KELOWNA — Distribution to its membership of the revised Three-Party Contract now has been completed by the British Columbia Fruit Growers' Association, with the mailing of three copies of the contract to each of the 3,707 registered growers, for their signature.

When the contract has been signed by the individual grower, he will return it to the head office of the BCFGA in Kelowna where it will be passed to his shipper for signature, and then to the central sales agency, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd. As the name implies, three parties must sign the contract.

In addition to the general distribution, extra copies are being supplied to the secretaries of all BCFGA locals and to all packing-houses, where they will be available if required.

This revised contract replaces the 1954 contract, at present in force, which will expire on April 1st.

On instructions from the annual convention held in Kelowna in January, 1958, the executive BC FGA appointed last year a contract committee. Its chairman was H. W. Byatt of Oyama, of the board of governors, B.C. Tree Fruits Ltd., and the members were A. R. Garrish, president, BCFGA; A. G. DesBrisay, president of B.C. Fruit Processors Ltd., and member of the B.C. Fruit Board and K. W. Kinnard, president of the Okanagan Federated Shippers' Association.

A draft of the new contract, and a summary of the proposed changes was sent to all growers and shippers in December last, so that it could be read and studied in advance of the 1959 convention. In the preparation of this draft the committee had opportunity to consult with the chairman of the royal commission inquiring into the tree-fruit industry, Dean E. D. MacPhee.

At the 1959 BCFGA convention, held in Vernon Jan. 20 to 22, the new contract received unanimous approval of the delegates.

Paper is the very currency of our present day civilization.

Like many businesses, political and even church organizations, the school board and the staff have been in a flurry of activity lately, wrestling with monetary matters in preparation for submission of the 1959 budget estimate to the department of education, "budget team," scheduled to visit here Tuesday.

While exact figures have yet to be tabulated, board secretary Fred Macklin has stated this year's budget "appears to be considerably more than the nearly $1,500,000 allotted for 1958."

Mr. Macklin attributes the increase to rising costs of school administration and teachers' salaries and a general increase in population in district schools.

Bigger School Budget Seen For Kelowna District

U.K. Conservatives Will Rest Case on Their Record

The Christian Science Monitor notes that when the underdog loses some of his underdoggedness his political leaders find themselves at a loss for issues. This is one of the British Labor Party's problems as Conservatives shape up their political strategy for the coming year.

In the five years after the war the Labor Party put through a revolution in British affairs. Since then the Conservatives have been able to make quite an impression on the country by tidying up some of the loose ends of that revolution and correcting the swing where it had gone too far. Conservatives have not been afraid to impose programs of limited austerity through higher bank rates, for example. They have slowed down inflation and helped Britain improve its position in world export markets.

Lately, with gold reserves at a very comfortable figure, the Conservative government provided new freedom for the British pound in world money markets. And Conservative Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has added his own personal triumphs to the party's assets.

So the Conservatives approach 1960 (the year in which the statutory five-year term inaugurated with Sir Anthony Eden's election in 1955 will come to an end) in preferred position. But much could happen in another year to change this. And since British law provides that the party in power can call a national election when it wishes, the Conservatives are expected to ask for one this year, perhaps as early as May and some party members even urge elections in March.

The Conservatives are expected to rest their case mainly on their record, though Sir Winston Churchill recently warned that it is dangerous to rely on public gratitude. Some popular-opinion polls underscore his warning by indicating that Labor may well push the Conservatives hard in new elections. But it looks as if neither party can offer anything strikingly new for the immediate future, and that an election in early 1959 would turn mainly on the records of the two parties over the last few years.

IN THE OTTAWA SHOWROOM

Prisoners at Sudbury

An editorial in "The Globe and Mail" summed up appropriately the realities of the strike at the International Nickel Company's plant at Sudbury.

Apparently the two representatives of the Sudbury area in the Ontario Legislature, Mr. Rheel Belisle (Nickel Belt) and Mr. G. J. Monaghan (Sudbury) received hundreds of letters from strikers anxious to go back to work and seeking a secret ballot to bring this about. The idea was for the Provincial Government to conduct the ballot enabling the 14,000 workers to express their real wishes. As there is no provision for any such action in the labor laws of Ontario, the government could not move in the matter.

Here is "The Globe and Mail" comment, — "Those strikers who want to go back to their jobs can, of course, simply do so — or attempt to do so. But they would be risking, indeed inviting, violence when they sought to make their way through the picket line. We have allowed a situation to grow up, here in Ontario, where nobody can exercise his legal right to enter struck premises without permission of the Union leaders concerned — and the Union leaders at Sudbury, desperately trying to keep the strike going, are not likely to grant such permission."

"The INCO strikers, in short, are prisoners of their own leadership. This is nothing new in Ontario, but has been developing since the war, with the closed shop, the union shop, the compulsory check-off, and all the rest, contributing to it. So now we find Union members appealing for liberation — from whom? From their own officials. And to whom do they make their appeal? To the government which legislated them into captivity and now has no means to free them. They are trapped, it is trapped, by legislation designed — one might almost laugh — to 'protect' the workers."

In Ignorance Sedate?

"Must helpless man, in ignorance sedate, roll darkling down the torrents of his fate?"

The past two centuries — and in particular the past two decades — may seem to have dealt cruelly with Dr. Johnson's eloquently-phrased question. For — irony of ironies! — is not man in this year 1959 A.D. both better educated and nearer to rolling "darkling down the torrents of his fate" than he has ever been before?

And yet this is but a superficial, almost flippancy, retort, born as it is of cynicism and despair. The great Johnson is not thus answered, if only because the noble accomplishments of man since his day are not to be so lightly dismissed.

We cannot shrug off as meaningless the gigantic strides that have been made in the alleviation of pain, the conquest of disease, the eradication of much poverty, any more than we can overlook the enjoyment of a better and more abundant life by millions, thanks to industry and the machine.

All this is the fruit of man's genius, the testimony of his ability to rout the forces of darkness. And, though the future of the world be balanced on a knife-edge, the hope and the belief will persist that the human story is not yet finished. Much yet remains to be done.

In the future, even more than in the past, the countries that progress will be the countries that invest in a big way in their intellectual resources. And assuredly, no country can hope to maintain, much less improve, high living standards if it allows its educational standards to deteriorate.

We in Canada will do well to ponder this, confronted as we are by a serious crisis in education. In a sentence, we have far too few qualified teachers, schools, colleges and universities for our growing population.

It is something that the existence of the crisis has come to be more widely recognized in recent months. But the state of national education continues to be of urgent concern to all parents who have interests of their children at heart. Education Week (March 1 - 7) provides an opportunity for doing something about it. Parents who have not thoroughly investigated the educational facilities in their community, through Home and School Associations and similar bodies, should do so forthwith, thinking three, five and ten years ahead.

They should find out what the likely requirements will be and then set about ensuring that these are met. To do less — to remain "in ignorance sedate" — is to sell both our children and our country short.

REPORT FROM THE U.K. Pupils Learn About Canada

By H. MCINTYRE HOOD

SPECIAL TO THE HERALD
LONDON — English school children are avid for information about Canada. This is learned in an afternoon spent in an English elementary school, talking to a group of some 125, 10 and 11-year olds. I was there by invitation of one of their teachers, who is conducting a course of lessons on Canada, and gave me the opportunity of giving his pupils as much first-hand information about the Dominion as could be crowded into the time available. And there was not nearly enough time to answer all the questions they had to ask. After the group was dismissed, I was surrounded in the school corridor by a crowd of boys wanting to continue the question period.

IN NEW COMMUNITY

The school in which I had this experience was the Applecroft Junior school in the new community of Walwyn Garden City, about 20 miles north of London. It is a school of some 500 pupils, ranging in age from 7 to 11. In it are taught the last four grades before entrance to secondary school. Over here, children are expected to be ready for secondary education at that age, which is why the critical examination which decides what form their secondary education is to take is known as the 11-plus examination. The school itself is very much like the more modern schools being built in Canada, but the classrooms seemed smaller, the ceilings lower and the corridors narrower than in the case in new schools seen in Ontario. It is, however, well equipped, with a spacious assembly hall, a dining room in which meals are served to the children at the noon recess, and a fine kitchen in which the meals are cooked. I can testify to the quality of the meals served, as I had an excellent lunch — exactly the same as served to the children, with the headmaster, or principal as we would call him, and two of his teachers, one of whom had spent a year in Canada.

CHILDREN ATTENTIVE

A group of some 125 children to whom I talked about Canada were in the highest grade of the school, doing their final year before going on to some form of higher education. They formed, I was told, a typical cross-section of children from the various types of homes in the city. There are no private schools in Walwyn Garden City, so all of the children go to the state schools. It was a bright and highly intelligent group. It was more than interesting to note the looks of keen interest and attention on their faces as I, with the use of a large map, took them on a journey across Canada from Newfoundland to British Columbia.

POINTED QUESTIONS

Their keen interest was further demonstrated by the type of questions they asked, dealing with Canada's climate, resources, production and extent. There was particular interest in the far north and the Northwest Territories, and, of course in the functions of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in the modern world. It seemed as if these youngsters just could not get enough news of Canada, or information about it. Their teacher had done an excellent job in compiling a large exhibit of pictures and booklets and other material which formed the basis of their regular classroom work regarding the Dominion.

I had a long talk with the headmaster, R. G. Dawe, while at the school, and it seems that Canada was chosen for study this term because "it is probably the most exciting country in the world today."

11-PLUS EXAMINATION

From Mr. Dawe I learned some interesting things about the system of education in England. The contentious 11-plus examination, he told me, is in some places not regarded with much favor, and is giving way to a system of passing the children on to the various types of secondary schools on the basis of their classroom record throughout their years in the junior school. The type of secondary school to which they are sent depends on the capacity they show for absorbing higher education. We discussed the problems of what is known in Canada as "the gifted child" and I found that in their last year in the junior school, they are put in classes according to their ability and educational development. In this particular school, for instance, there are four classes in the highest grade, known as "A," "B," "C," "D." The more brilliant pupils are in Grade "A," and are given a greatly enriched course compared with those in the lower grades. Grade "B" is not given as advanced work as "A," but more advanced than "C," and so on. Mr. Dawe felt that this was the soundest method of challenging the ability and ambition of the brighter pupils.

Visiting that school was a worthwhile experience. It seemed to me that the children were ready for secondary school at a lower age than in Canada, by about two years, on the average, and that the foundations laid for high education are very thorough. But the bright young faces I saw in front of me were very much like those which I have seen in many Canadian classrooms, the faces of young people with their future ahead of them, and preparing as best they know how for the future.

Group Reducing Plan Suggested

BY HERMAN N. BUNDEISEN, M.D.

Misery loves company. So do those on a reducing diet.

Maybe you have tried to lose weight in the past and failed to stick to your prescribed diet long enough. It has happened. In fact, it probably is the rule rather than the exception. It is extremely difficult to diet alone when all your friends are talking about food. And food, whether it is buying it or cooking it, is a topic of general conversation.

ANOTHER PLAN

Well, perhaps another plan may succeed where the previous one has failed.

I would like to suggest a group reducing program. Many organizations conduct such programs for very reasonable fees. The YWCA in Chicago has had excellent results with group weight-reducing plans.

Similar programs in other communities, I understand, generally have also had good results.

DIVERSION

Child psychiatrists no longer seem to blame comic books for causing juvenile delinquency. Maybe that's because today's child psychiatrists grew up reading comic books.

To the blonde dancer who had just finished her act in the floor show, the rich young man said deplorably: "Tell me, why do you, a beautiful, talented and apparently well educated girl, dance in a sordid joint like this?" "I don't know," she answered, "unless it is that I meet a great many more prominent young men here than I did when I worked in the library."

It is reported that women's fashions are back to normal. In fashions as in economics "normal" is something we have often heard about but don't recall ever having seen.

BIBLE THOUGHT

My strength is made perfect in weakness. — I Corinthians 12:10. If we know we are weak we are apt to call in powerful A's. It is always at hand.

Where Does the Tax Money Go?

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Where did your money go last year, all $5,087,411,011, which was extracted from you in taxes by the Federal Government?

That sounds like a lot of money, even when divided between Canadians. And it is plenty. It amounts to about $1,196 for the average family.

If you want the answer to that question, the long and detailed but, believe me, intensely fascinating answer, you can get it by sending $5 to the Queen's Printer in Ottawa, and he will mail to you, postage free, the two volumes of "Public Accounts of Canada for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1958."

Volume Two deals shortly, too shortly, with Crown Companies. But Volume One is quite a book. Its 1,050 pages tell you just how each Government Department did its spending. It gives the name and salary of every one of your employees in the civil service who was paid at the rate of $5,000 a year or more; it tells you how much was paid to each Senator and M.P., and incidentally reveals their degree of absenteeism from sittings of Parliament, which costs them a deduction of $60 a day for each day of absence in excess of 21 in the year, except in case of illness or public business elsewhere.

SIZE OF THAT CONTRACT
This big volume also gives the name of each contractor or supplier catering to the government, and the amount paid, in every case involving more than $10,000; so you can learn how much your neighbor was paid when his farm was expropriated to make the airport. And it tells you what fees, in excess of $500, were paid to which lawyers, doctors and others in the professions for their services.

It reveals, for example, that the United Towing and Salvage Co. Ltd. of Port Arthur was paid $75,000 for "breaking ice in Thunder Bay; transporting lightkeepers and their assistants, wives, families and effects to and from their stations, etc." It explains that one Rene Levesque was paid $2,000 compensation for an injury incurred when he was helping a member of the RCMP to make an arrest at Simo Lake, P.Q., a surprising 25 years ago.

And it lists the scale of pay and allowances for all uniformed employees, from a Trumpeter in the Mounted Police (pay $2,340 per year) to the Deputy Commander in Chief of the North American Air Defence Command ($17,000 per year).

As two out of three Ottawa fathers either work for the Government, or are concerned in sundry payments or fees for goods or services rendered to the Government, you will appreciate why this "Blue Book" is required reading in nearly every Ottawa home — if a copy can be obtained. Quite apart from the listing of the "order of precedence" of civil servants according to their rate of pay, which alas some ambitious Ottawa hostesses consider important, this publication caters to the widespread human failing of curiosity about what the neighbors earn or otherwise receive.

TORY ECONOMIES
It is encouraging to note that economies have already been effected in some fields by the new Conservative Government. Prime Minister John Diefenbaker himself sets a good example, through a reduction of about $1,000 in the annual cost of his official residence. This saving, as compared to the previous year when the residence was occupied by former Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, is made up of $527 less spent on hired help and $518 less spent on food.

Since the Tories took over the business of government, there have also been foreseeable savings in the cost of deodorizing government offices in Ottawa. ($4,607 compared to $10,818 in the previous year) and in the expense of vermin control (slashed from $21,962 in the previous year to $5,440 under the Tories).

No Walls, Fences At Prison Farm

By GEORGE McNEVIN

FREDERICTON (CP) — The concept that maximum security is unnecessary for many types of offenders guides New Brunswick's Central Reformatory, a prison farm at nearby Kingsclear.

The objective is to make time serve the inmate, rather than the inmate serve time, says E. W. Henheffer, provincial penal inspector.

The 1,300-acre establishment has about 60 inmates serving terms from two months to two years, and working at lumbering, carpentry, farming and other trades.

The buildings are bright and cheerful. It has no surrounding walls or fences, no barred doors or windows, and no armed guards patrol the premises.

Escape would seem fairly simple, but of the hundreds who have served terms there only 13 have attempted it, one of them by swimming the Saint John River. Only one escapee was at large for more than 24 hours.

The institution was opened in August, 1956, as the result of a three-year study of the province's penal system by a special commission. General overhauling began in 1954 under Premier Flemming and the then attorney-general, W. J. West, since appointed to the appeals division of the New Brunswick Supreme Court.

The commission was headed by Judge J. Bacon Dickson of Fredericton, who travelled to many parts of Canada and the United States gathering information. Officially, the Kingsclear embodies the best features of institutions in both countries.

Set high on a terraced hill overlooking the Saint John River, the buildings include 20 30-bed dormitories, a mess hall and kitchen, and a new administration building of brick and cedarboard now being completed.

The prison farm, when it is finished, will have 18 buildings and a staff of 22. It will be valued at about $350,000.

Some old buildings on the site were remodelled and new ones erected by the inmates themselves, which Mr. Henheffer says gives the lie to the old bromide that you can't accomplish anything with inmate labor.

In dealings with the prisoners, the emphasis is rehabilitation rather than punishment. Farm superintendent F. L. Corcoran, says the terms are usually too short for obvious changes in social attitudes but definite improvement is usually noted in the longer-term inmates.

Mr. Henheffer tells of a 16-year-old who wouldn't work. Puzzled, the officials finally discovered the reason—he just didn't know how to work. He had never done any.

He was given guidance and coaching in good work habits and by the end of his term the staff felt he had made progress. But they felt his term was too short for his own good.

"In another two months he would have been ready to take on the world," says Mr. Henheffer. In addition to work on the prison farm itself, inmates sometimes work on government projects such as constructing roadside picnic sites.

They raise their own beef and pork, and grow their own vegetables. Facilities are not yet available for slaughtering and cold storage.

Under the present system cost of the institution is estimated at $1,450 a bed, much cheaper than the maximum security type of jail.

Most of the inmates appear to find it a rather pleasant life. Some have their own radios, and for special occasions a television set is brought in from outside. They play darts and table tennis indoors, baseball and hockey outdoors. Saturday afternoons and Sundays are free from work, and visitors are allowed. Fredericton clergymen conduct Protestant and Roman Catholic services on different nights of the week.

been busily engaged this past week in finalizing dance plans; Mrs. A. C. Mussell, publicity chairman; Mrs. R. G. Ham, general convenor, and Mrs. G. L. Laycock, who is in charge of decorations. Dance proceeds are designated for Happyvale School.

Institute Making Layettes for USC

SUMMERLAND — Summerland Women's Institute is busy with preparing layettes for Unitarian Services. Mrs. Gordon Ritchie, convener of the home economics committee, reported at Friday afternoon's meeting that response had been good to suggestions of need. A United Church group is assisting; a primary Sunday school class in the Anglican Church is giving aid; donations were brought to the meeting and the Girl Guides are helping.

Mrs. L. W. Rumball, past president, asked for donations for the fall Variety Sale.

It was reported that 200 Centennial cook books had been sold by the Summerland WI.

JUBILEE PROJECT
As a Jubilee project, since this year marks the 50th in the history of the local WI, a new custodian's table has been purchased for the Centennial library at West Summerland. It was made locally of mahogany plywood from a design approved by the Okanagan Regional Library. Cost was $280. Mrs. L. W. Rumball is convener of the library table fund, and various suggestions of ways to make money to cover the cost were advanced. A resolution was passed whereby each member is to make or donate $2.50 to the fund.

An original idea was brought forward by Mrs. Gordon Ritchie who offered tickets to members for a complete uncooked chicken dinner for five to be delivered at the home of the winning person. Mrs. Ritchie will use her own frozen chicken, vegetables and strawberries for the dinner. This was a very popular project.

BIRTHDAY BOX
A birthday box will be established during the year for members to put in money, equal to the amount of their years, as their birthday comes along.

A silent auction was approved and it is expected ingenious methods of raising money for the library table will be found throughout 1959.

Mrs. A. C. Fleming read highlights of the provincial news letter.

It was announced that Mrs. Gordon Ritchie is an official delegate to the ACW meetings in Edinburgh this summer and that Mrs. Sandy Fenwick, local president, will attend as a visitor.

The next meeting will be on March 15 when Dr. R. K. Gordon of Penicton will be the guest speaker.

The meeting adjourned to be followed by the annual Valentine party and directors' tea. Lovely Valentine decorations were made by Mrs. Myrtle Scott and games were planned by Mrs. A. R. McLarty and Mrs. A. C. Fleming.

Golden Anniversary Celebrated by Oliver Couple

OLIVER—Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Charles Webster celebrated their golden wedding anniversary by being hosts at a dinner party held in the Palm Room of Tuck's Cafe. Thirty-one guests attended and during the evening's festivities Rev. Sidney Pike acted as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Mabel Ferguson assisted Mr. and Mrs. Webster with the arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Webster were married in Pittsburgh, Penn., on Feb. 3, 1909, and spent a great deal of their early life travelling between a farm in Saskatchewan and Pittsburgh. In 1928 they settled at the coast and since 1953 have been living in retirement in Oliver.

Mrs. Bruce Morris and Mrs. Noel Parker are co-convening the style parade "Springtime in the Park" to be held in the school cafeteria. Discussions dealing with the forthcoming event were foremost on the agenda at the regular meeting held at the home of Mrs. Morris on Bennett Avenue. "Magically Yours", a George Woodcraft and Company attraction, will be featured entertainment at the style display.

Prior to the opening of business the members joined president Mrs. William Fowles in a tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Graham Knight, who was closely associated with United Church work here for many years.

Mrs. Arthur Venier led the devotional program and Mrs. Robert McMorland reviewed the chapters on Canada in the United Church study book "North America." Mrs. George Glary submitted a report from the Women's Federation prior to adjournment.

Members worked on fashion show decorations while tea was served by Mrs. Burt Dean, Mrs. Frank Christian, Mrs. E. D. Clark and Mrs. John Cunningham.

Mushrooms Add Interest to Many Dishes

Once you get the mushroom habit, you'll wonder how you ever got along without them. For mushrooms can make an ordinary dish into an exciting one.

Have you tried adding mushrooms, sautéed in butter, to dishes such as scrambled eggs, rice, spaghetti, other vegetables, sauces and stuffings? If not, you have been missing something for they make all the difference in the world.

One pound of fresh mushrooms will yield about 2 cups cooked, sufficient to serve 4 to 6 as a vegetable with steak or chicken, or to add a glamorous touch to several dishes.

1 pound mushrooms
6 tablespoons butter
Salt and pepper
Fresh lemon juice or Soy sauce (optional)

Wash mushrooms, remove stems and slice; leave small caps whole and cut large ones in pieces. Melt butter in frying pan and sauté mushrooms gently for 6 to 8 minutes, until just tender. (Do not overcook as overcooking darkens and toughens mushrooms.) Season with salt and pepper and a dash of lemon juice.

Newest Accessories Add Charm to Room

By ELEANOR ROSS

It's fun to know what's new—even if you don't want it!

For example, a fascinating new invention involves a shower curtain that rolls up out of sight, window shade fashion. The roller is inside a tubular casing where the shower rod usually is.

BEAUTIFUL CURTAINS

While we admire the imagination and workmanship that went into this idea, personally, we can live without it, because we love the beautiful shower curtains available today. The gorgeous colors, the artistry of design, the luxurious materials, all help our shower curtains add beauty to the bathroom. So why should we have a device to keep them out of sight?

A really handsome shower curtain can be the focal spot for a bathroom, keying the color of the walls, the floor, the towels and other accessories. Or if the other colors were decided on first, then one can at least select a curtain to accent background colors and give them life.

Pretty bathroom accessories help to make bathing pleasant, especially if one is a tub addict. And the nicest thing about bathroom props is that they needn't be expensive. Colorful curtains, towels, bath mats can all be had at budget prices.

LITTLE LUXURIES

The little luxuries are inexpensive, too. Items such as pretty towel rings, bath pillows, bath trays and similar aids to luxurious comfort are generally reasonably priced.

In days gone by there were bathroom luxuries, too, but of a different type.

Some years ago, a famous jeweller turned out a big collection of sterling silver soap boxes and, for some customers, these were engraved with beautiful monograms.

SOAP BOXES

These soap boxes have since become collectors' items, but not for their original purpose. Some are used as table ornaments, some as cigarette cases.

One woman who discovered such a silver soap box in a thrift shop had it converted into a handsome compact.

Wawanesa, Manitoba, who will visit here for some time.

Miss Mabel Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Henderson, Jubilee Road, has left to return to the mission field in Havana, Cuba. Miss Henderson will visit her brother, Roy, his wife and family in Winnipeg and stop off in Toronto, en route south. In Lakeview, Florida, she will attend a convention of Pentecostal Assemblies the middle of this month.

Miss Henderson has been home on furlough after four years in Cuba. During her leave her health has greatly improved.

The annual congregation dinner and business meeting of St. Stephen's Anglican Church is to be held in the parish hall Monday evening, February 10.

SALMON ROLLS

Quick, Easy Fish Recipe for Lent

In fish preparation, as in other types of cookery, the modern trend is toward the quick and easy. Lenten menus this year should be short on labor and long on variety. You will find fish markets and food stores well stocked with a variety of fishery products. To show you what you might do with a pound of fish—fresh, frozen, and canned—here is a simple recipe supplied by the home economists of Canada's Department of Fisheries. It is especially recommended for beginners without any special luck, who like compliments for their cooking. Though procedures outlined are simple, the flavor of the completed dish is on the gourmet level.

VALENTINE DECOR

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Will Hold Cabaret Dance Friday

With the Valentine theme chosen, as the motif, members of the Alpha Lambda Chapter of the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority have designed clever decorations to create an appropriate atmosphere at their annual "Cupid's Cabaret" dance Friday in the Legion auditorium. Huge wall mural stressing a sentimental theme will provide a suitable background for the decor featuring flowers, lace, frilled paper hearts and cardboard cupid.

Mrs. R. G. Ham is general convenor of the dance being held in aid of Happyvale, the school for mentally handicapped children in this area. New kitchen equipment is the sorority's objective.

Assisting Mrs. Ham with dance arrangements are Mrs. G. L. Laycock and Mrs. Joyce Pogue, decorations; Miss Dorothy Britton and Mrs. Harold Plamondon, refreshments; Mrs. A. C. Mussell, publicity; and Mrs. Richard Munro, tickets and reservations. Tickets are available from any member of the sorority, Sands

Administrative Jobs For Oblate Sisters

OTTAWA (CP) — The eight women dress somewhat like students, they are addressed as "Miss" and live in an attractively furnished house in central Ottawa.

Few people know that they serve as sisters of a secular institute of the Roman Catholic Church—as members of the Oblate Missionaries of the Immaculate.

Here, they serve the church through work at the University of Ottawa, which is operated by the Oblate fathers. They are in administrative jobs, some as secretaries and one as a teacher in what is otherwise an all-male school.

WIDESPREAD ORDER

The women, between 25 and 30 years of age, started work here last September. The institute, with some 800 members in six countries, was founded in 1852 at Grand Falls, N.B.

Lucille L'Heureux, a native of Maniwaki, Que., directs the Ottawa house and heads the secretarial staff of the university's secretary-general.

Miss L'Heureux told a reporter she always wanted to be a nun, but that her father objected. The secular institute was a happy compromise. A former secretary, she joined the institute three years ago.

The Oblate sisters make annual vows of obedience, chastity and poverty. A sister may leave the institute when she fulfills her yearly vow.

NO MAKEUP

They wear no makeup. Their tailored, grey wool skirts are street-length. The rest of their "uniform" is a long-sleeved white blouse, nylons and brogues, with a navy blue blazer for summer and a navy trenchcoat for colder weather. They wear blue berets.

A sign of their service is the Oblate medallion worn on a chain around the neck.

There is no problem in hairdressing. Beatrice Marcoux, a former school teacher from Beauport, near Quebec City, is the hairdresser for the whole house.

Their life is happy and tranquil. Salaries are turned over to Miss L'Heureux, who pays household bills, buys personal necessities for them and gives the rest of the money to the institute's headquarters at Cap de Madeleine, Que.

Oblate sisters wash their own dishes, look after their own laundry and help with the housework. But the kitchen is the domain of Therese Metivier. A former nurse's aide from Ste. Germaine de Dorchester, Que., she joined the institute three years ago.

Their bedtime is 10 o'clock. For entertainment at home, the sisters have a piano, radio and tape recorder.

When packing books, stand them on end rather than stacking them. Alternate spines and open edges, to minimize strain on the bindings.

How research saved Sherry Anderson's life

SHERRY ANDERSON was born a "blue baby". She had four defects in her heart which robbed her blood of the oxygen it needed. Her parents knew about the "blue baby" operation, but they also knew it had not always been beneficial.

Sherry was particularly fortunate because medical research had just developed a very efficient Heart Pump. This "pump" actually does the work of the heart during an operation, allowing surgeons time to make complete repairs.

Medical research is also striving to discover the various causes of heart disease, with the ultimate hope of preventing it. This valuable work is being correlated and stimulated by the National Heart Foundation of Canada.

Because the life insurance companies in Canada believe in the Heart Foundation, they have given it strong financial support. This is just one of many ways in which these companies help to create a healthier, happier life for Canadians.

Avery in Big Win Final Goes Today

VERNON (CP)—Frank Avery, of Vancouver, showed the form that has given him four British Columbia curling championships as he forced Barry Naimark into submission Sunday night in the second game of a best-of-three series for the B.C. curling title.

Naimark, also from Vancouver, conceded after eight ends of the scheduled 12-end match with the score standing at a staggering 11-1 in Avery's favor.

Avery's win tied the series at one game each. Naimark won the first game 10-9 after an extra end.

The third and deciding game will be played at 9 a.m. today. Naimark, making his third appearance of the day, looked jaded in his play and quickly fell behind.

Avery claimed a 7-0 lead before Naimark scored one in the sixth end. But three more for Avery in the seventh and one in the eighth put the issue beyond doubt and Naimark conceded.

In the first game, a perfect chip-and-leave shot by Naimark gave him victory in the 13th end. He had gone ahead 9-7 in the 11th end after being down

7-6 after nine, but Avery levelled with a double in the 12th. Earlier Sunday, Naimark snaked a two-ender in the last end to defeat Bill Fuller of Whitehorse, 8-7, in the final of the primary B event.

Avery won the primary A event Saturday night with a 10-9 win

ELSTON HOWARD GETS RAISE

Holding his 1959 contract, Yankee star Elston Howard points to the approximate spot in the outfield at Yankee Stadium where he made his famous catch in the 1958 World Series. The catch marked the turning point in the series, as the Yanks came from behind in the seventh game to win. The versatile Howard received a raise of approximately $8,000 and will get about $25,000 this year, his highest salary ever.

Grudge Line Hits Hot Pace in NHL

By GEORGE FRAJTOR

Canadian Press Staff Writer

If anything, they should call it the Grudge Line.

Ted Lindsay was ditched by

Detroit Red Wings, Ted Sloan by

Toronto Maple Leafs and Eddie

Litzenberger by Montreal Canadians.

They've been playing hockey

since then as if they resented it.

During the weekend Big Liz whacked three goals and got three assists, Sloan got two goals and two assists, and Lindsay a goal and five assists as they led the Chicago Black Hawks to a

6-3 win over New York Rangers

Saturday and a 7-2 slaughter of Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday.

SCORES PENALIZED

Lindsay and Sloan's peevishness showed in their penalty record—Lindsay got 10-minute misconduct and a minor and Sloan

a misconduct and two minors.

Chicago's double win gave them a comfortable hold on the National Hockey League's second place, but Montreal Canadians stayed in first.

The league leaders, playing only so-so hockey lately lost 3-2 to Boston Bruins Saturday and then clipped Detroit Red Wings

3-1 Sunday.

Canadians, 10 points ahead of Chicago with 66 points, didn't even do as well against the Red

Wings as did Toronto's reviving

Maple Leafs, who slapped down

Detroit 4-1 Saturday and finally vacated the league cellar, at least for a while.

HORVATH SCORES THREE

Bronco Horvath fired three goals as Boston beat New York

4-1 Sunday. Fleming Mackell got the other goal and rookie Jim

Bartlett scored the Rangers' lone tally.

Horvath out with a broken jaw

for a large part of this season, got a total of four goals during the weekend, scoring once Saturday in Boston's 3-2 win over

Montreal. Leo Labine and Don

McKenney each scored once.

Marcel Bonin scored both Montreal goals.

Sunday, Canadiens' left wing

Dickie Moore scored his 28th goal — only one less than the league-leading 29 by New York's

Andy Bathgate — and Jean Beliveau and Henri (Pocket Rocket)

Richard got one each as the Canadiens subdued Detroit. Red

Kelly was Detroit's only scorer.

FLUKE GOAL

Alex Delvecchio was the Wings'

only marksman Saturday night

at Toronto, and even then his shot was a fluke—it nicked Leaf

defenceman Tim Horton's skate

and was deflected in.

Bob Fulford led the Leafs with two goals and Gerry Ehman and Dick Duff had one each.

The Leafs withered Sunday against Chicago, getting only a goal apiece out of Barry Cullen and Billy Harris.

FLUKE GOAL

Alex Delvecchio was the Wings'

only marksman Saturday night

at Toronto, and even then his

shot was a fluke—it nicked Leaf

defenceman Tim Horton's skate

THE ESTHER CARSE RINK, the first Penticton rink to win the A event in the Penticton Ladies' Curling Club annual bonspiel are

THE OLIVE HACKMAN RINK of Summerland walked off not only with the Penticton Ladies' Curling Club trophy but the Grand Aggregate as well, winning 6 out of 7 games. Members of the team

It Took Five Years But Ladies Did it

Five years ago the Penticton again fell to interior curlers with Curling Club held its first bonspiel for ladies from all over B.C.

Sunday, for the first time, a Penticton club captured top honors in the A event eliminating top-coastal and Fraser Valley contestants on the way.

Esther Carse skipped the winning rink to the finals. Em Jackson, lead; Nell Cranna, second, and Genda Keith, third, were the other members of the top trophy foursome.

In the B event coast clubs

Olive Hackman, Summerland, leading a local quartet to victory. Betty Fisher played lead, Jean Dunsdon second, Margaret Solly third. The Hackman rink also took grand aggregate honors.

The C event saw the completion of a hat-trick for local curlers with Alma Hill, Penticton, skipping another interior rink to the winning of the Noca Dairy trophy.

D event, the Incola Hotel trophy, was won by the Ann Troyer rink, also from Penticton.

Members of Alma Hills' rink were Martha Halverson, Dora Bertram and Eva Dodd and Ann Troyer's rink was made up of Dora Dirks, Noreen Battersby and Phil Hamilton.

The bonspiel in which thirty rinks took part, took three days to play, starting on Friday and finishing Sunday night.

Elliot Takes Shot At American Milers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Herb Elliott, the 20-year-old Australian who holds the world record for running the mile, says American trackmen are too soft.

"A lot of chaps can run the first half in two minutes," Elliott said, "but running the second half constitutes the real test.

They (U.S. runners) can't do it, because the body wants to stop. And if the Americans want to run they'll have to deny themselves of what the body wants, like chocolates, for instance."

Elliott and tennis queen Althea Gibson of New York will receive trophies tonight, as the male and female athlete-of-the year for 1958.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles will present the awards at a banquet. The Eagles base their award on the annual Associated Press poll.

Elliott said that if U.S. athletes don't bear down soon the Russians will clean up an impressive list of firsts in Olympic competition.

"There's too much emphasis of team winning in America," Elliott said. "Here an athlete is told track is a team sport and he must more or less sacrifice himself for the good of the team."

For example, a fellow like your Don Bowden, who I think is the most promising miler in your country, has to compete in the half as well as the mile.

He'll run three races in an afternoon. Now Bowden should concentrate only on his specialty, the mile, and run when he feels like running—not when the coach tells him to," Elliott added.

Glover Near Record In AHL Scoring

By The Associated Press

Fred Glover, 31-year-old veteran of 10 seasons in the American Hockey League, is closing in on Fred Thurier's circuit scoring record. The Cleveland winger picked up two assists Sunday night in a losing cause to run his career point total to 701 on 233 goals and 468 assists. Thurier, now retired, compiled 744 points in 13 seasons.

All of Glover's fine work couldn't keep the injury-riddled Barons from going down to their fifth straight defeat, at the hands of the Providence Reds 6-4. Saturday night they lost to the fast-stepping Rochester Americans 8-5.

First Title go On Wednesday

HOUSTON, Tex.—(AP)—The first world championship boxing bout of 1959 is scheduled here Wednesday with Joe Brown defending his lightweight title for the sixth time. The challenger will be 24-year-old Johnny Busso of New York.

Busso got the title shot after he upset the champ in an over-the-weight bout Nov. 5 at Miami Beach, Fla.

Women Test Driving Skill In Car Rally
By EDNA USHER
TORONTO (CP) — About a dozen women took part in the Canadian winter car rally this week-end. They drove on 1,500 miles of snow-covered, ice back roads, getting less than nine hours sleep between Friday evening and Sunday night.

"Why did they do it?" "We wanted to show our husbands we could drive too," said Mrs. Dorothy Duncan, 25, of Toronto, mother of two.

"We wanted to test our skill and use our brains," said stenographer Shirley Cooke, 25, of Toronto.

"We heard friends talking about the rally, and decided to try it," said Dr. Sheila Birse of Toronto who navigated for Dr. Frank Lathe.

Pat Moss and Ann Wisdom, 24-year-old car enthusiasts from England, were probably the most experienced women rally drivers in the Canadian competition.

They hold the European women's touring championship. Most of the women were in the rally for the first time.

Shirley Cooke was navigator for Gillian Field, 25, formerly of Birmingham, England. They had driven in small rallies before.

"More women should take part in the Canadian rally," said Shirley. "It is a test of skill and a challenge to your brainpower."

In Ontario, where there were six traffic deaths, a man was crushed by a tractor in a Toronto suburb, another froze to death while ice-fishing at Lake Simcoe, 55 miles north of Toronto and a paralist fell 3,500 feet to his death at Paris, Ont.

The survey covered the period from 6 p.m. local time Friday to midnight Sunday.

Ontario led the tabulation with nine deaths. British Columbia reported four killed and three were single traffic deaths in Quebec and Alberta.

There was a drowning in British Columbia. A girl was fatally injured when she was thrown from a horse that bolted and another child was killed when she was struck in the stomach by a swing. The fourth fatality was in traffic.

Actor-Producer Setup Defended

By BOB THOMAS
KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Are high-priced actor-producers killing Hollywood's golden goose? Samuel Goldwyn thinks so. Gary Grant doesn't.

Veteran producer Goldwyn made a recent speech before the Screen Producers Guild in which he castigated actors for demanding up to $1,000,000 in salary, plus producer's share of profits.

"The artists of Hollywood would do well not to try to take over the functions of the producers," he said.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"You just should hear the Old Dear discuss high finance!"

Grant, the old pro among stars? He is a pioneer in boosting star salaries to the skies and winning ownership of films. I nailed him down dockside at the Key West naval base where he's playing a sub commander in Operation Pacific.

"The producers made a mess of the picture business—why not give us actors a try at producing? Maybe we can do better."

Grant paid his respects to his onetime employer, Goldwyn, plus Sam Spiegel and David Selznick, whom he termed "really creative producers." But many of their fellow film-makers got away with murder for years, he claimed.

MILLION PER FILM
When Grant agreed to do Operation Pacific, Universal International gave producership to his company. On most of his films in recent years, he has been given ownership after seven years. His salaries and percent ages probably average more than $1,000,000 a film.

Is this too much for the movie traffic to bear?
"Who can say it is too much?" he asked. "Everybody's making money. The banks continue to lend millions of dollars on the strength of stars' names, and you know they aren't going to throw their money away."

Opening lead—seven of hearts.
It isn't often that a player opens with one trump and later decides the opponents can make a slam against him and therefore takes a sacrifice.

This phenomenon took place some years ago in a national tournament after Harry Fishbein, captain of the American team which this week is attempting to wrest the world championship from Italy, opened with a no-trump.

"The purist may quarrel with the no-trump bid, lacking as it does the required 16 high card points, but Fishbein has never been a stickler when it comes to adhering to conventions, and believes an occasional spillover adds a little extra zest to the game. East had a high card or two himself and doubled. South, with a hand clearly marked for play at spades, bid four of them.

West was sufficiently impressed with his distribution to venture five hearts with his 3 high-card points, a reasonable enough bid under the circumstances.

After Fishbein passed, East correctly analyzed the distributional situation in spades and went to six hearts. This bid rolled around to Fishbein.

He took no umbrage at the insult being leveled at his notrump bid. He recognized that his 15 points plus the few points his partner might have were nearly all destined to go down the drain. East had not been pushed into six hearts, but had undertaken the slam voluntarily. Presumably, he thought his side would make the slam.

Fishbein's hand presented no proof that East was mistaken. True, he could count about 18 points, for his side, which meant the opponents had only about 22. And true also that 33 points are frequently required to produce 12 tricks.

But the handwriting was clearly written on the wall. The A-Q of spades were of doubtful value defensively. The king of clubs looked as though it were on the chopping block right in front of East's marked club strength.

So Fishbein bid six spades, got doubled, went down two, and saved a slam.

Tomorrow: What has to be has to be.

Lack of Imagination a Key to Sprawling North American Cities

By BRUCE LEVETT
Canadian Press Staff Writer
TORONTO (CP) — Lack of imagination in planning and an uncertainty on the part of the public as to what it wants, were two main reasons given during the weekend for the sprawling condition of North American cities.

Approximately 200 attended the three-day sessions of the annual winter weekend conference sponsored jointly by the Canadian Institute on Public Affairs and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

COFFEE BREAK FOR BERLIN MAYOR

Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin and his wife, Rut, take time out for a coffee break at the RCAF lounge just after their arrival at nearby Uplands airport, Ottawa. CBC Strike Talks Drag On Into Another Day

OTTAWA (CP) — Refreshed after a 12-hour break, negotiators made statements at the breakfast of Sunday night's meeting. Neither CBC nor producers negotiators made statements at the breakfast of Sunday night's meeting.

CBC OPTIMISTIC
Although a producers spokesman said at one point during the meeting that "many contentious points remain at issue," a CBC spokesman said "we are optimistic because, from the CBC viewpoint, the strike can be settled quickly."

The producers' spokesman said the CBC still refuses many impositions.

Canada's Trade Deficit Reduced

OTTAWA — (CP) — Canada's deficit in international trade was sharply reduced in 1958 due largely to a drop in imports from the United States, the bureau of statistics reports.

In its preliminary report on last year's trade results, the bureau said the deficit was reduced to $267,600,000 from $689,000,000 in 1957.

Over-all imports during 1958 were down eight per cent at $5,196,100,000 from $5,623,400,000 in 1957 while Canadian exports were down only slightly at $4,928,500,000 from $4,934,400,000 the previous year.

Exports to the U.S. declined about one per cent to $2,914,800,000 last year from $2,941,700,000 in 1957 and imports from the U.S. into Canada by about 11 per cent to $3,577,900,000 from $3,998,500,000.

"The Canadian import balance deficit with the United States was consequently reduced from $1,056,800,000 to $663,100,000," the bureau said, "and this reduction contributed greatly to the decrease in the over-all import balance."

MORE EXPORTS
Canada's exports to the United Kingdom, meantime, rose by more than five per cent to $781,000,000 from $742,700,000 in 1957.

The U.K. managed to sell a little more to Canada during the year. Imports from there rose one per cent to $527,000,000 from $522,000,000 the year previous.

Consequently Canada enjoyed an increase in its surplus of trade with the U.K., to $254,000,000 from $220,700,000.

Commonwealth Scientists Could Lead Way

KARACHI, Pakistan (Reuters) — The Duke of Edinburgh has called on Commonwealth countries to combine their scientific techniques to solve scientific problems in industry, commerce and trade.

Commonwealth scientific co-operation would give hope to the world and might free science "forever from the grim necessity to invent weapons of destruction," the Duke told the Pakistan Association for the Advancement of Science.

The duke, who arrived here on his 100-day tour, is heading a British delegation to the association's annual meeting.

Frost Will Reply To Pipeline Up roar

By PETER SYNOWICH
Canadian Press Staff Writer
TORONTO (CP) — Premier Frost gives his answer today to developments which have brought the province's pipeline controversy to a boil again in the Ontario legislature.

Philip T. Kelly, former mines minister, added the fuel in a newspaper interview Friday during which he said:

"If you examine the records of shareholders—who they were—you might come up with some very interesting stuff. It stood in the House today I could back a few of them off their chairs."

As the legislature met that afternoon, Liberal Leader John Wintermeyer joined CCF Leader Donald MacDonald in demanding a judicial inquiry.

Socred, Liberal Battle for Seat

OTHERS IMPLICATED
Mr. Kelly's statement, said the Liberal leader, "strongly indicated that other members of this House held stock in Northern Ontario Natural Gas."

Replied the premier: "I will read his statement very carefully over the weekend and we will meet again at three o'clock on Monday."

The issue concerns promoters' stock in Northern Ontario Natural Gas Company which began to be distributed for as little as five cents a share before 400,000 common shares were offered to the public at $25 in June, 1957.

Mr. Kelly resigned both his mines portfolio and his Cochrane North seat in 1957. Pressure of business was given as the reason.

Mr. MacDonald started the pipelines uproar at the 1958 session of the legislature, saying, a former mines minister had made big profits on Northern Ontario stock. Mr. Kelly later confirmed he had made dealings in the stock.

THREE RESIGNATIONS
Two other cabinet ministers resigned over stock ownership and Attorney-General Robert Ross appointed a three-man investigating committee.

Text of its report was not made public, but Mr. Roberts said it showed stocks were held by only one other public figure besides Mr. Wintermeyer and the three former cabinet ministers. That was A. D. McKenzie, president of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association, who served for a time as general counsel to Northern Ontario Natural Gas.

Last Tuesday Mr. Wintermeyer in a legislative speech defended his investments which produced $1,600 profit. "I may have been indiscreet, but I did not and will never do anything improper or irregular."

DOGGY LIFE NOT FOR HIS WIFE

LONDON (Reuters) — Dog fancier Gordon Tuck, whose six pedigreed poodles won three prizes in the Crufts dog show here Saturday, seems to have lost his wife.

French-born Germaine Tuck, 36, missing since Friday with the four Tuck children, was traced to a London hotel by reporters and confessed she did not share her husband's enthusiasm for the doggy life.

She said she was "tired of living in the same house" as the dogs, adding, "My husband is so fond of them he seems to have no other interests."

The Tuck children range in age from 13 to 3.

Canada, Australia To Negotiate New Airline Agreement

CANBERRA (Reuters)—External Affairs Minister Richard Casey today announced that Canada and Australia will negotiate a new airline agreement within the next few weeks.

He said he hopes the talks, held if possible before March 11, will result in arrangements satisfactory to both countries.

Canadian Pacific Airlines has announced it will discontinue service to Australia March 11 if Australian authorities are "adamant" in their stand to reduce by half the weekly CPA flights from Vancouver to Sydney.

Casey said today that existing arrangements provide for a fortnightly service between Canada and Australia by both Australia's Qantas airlines and CPA.

He added, "However, both airlines have been operating a weekly service on a temporary basis for some years. This temporary arrangement, which was to have expired Dec. 11 and then on Feb. 11, has now been extended to March 11."

FUTURE OF GERMANY

Dulles to Report On Allied Talks

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — State Secretary Dulles returns today from a flying round of talks with European allies about plans for negotiating with Russia over the future of Germany.

Officials here said they were sure Dulles had laid the groundwork for a speedup in Allied planning for a spring foreign ministers' meeting with Russia. Dulles conferred with the leaders of Britain, France and West Germany during visits to London, Paris and Bonn.

CONCESSIONS POSSIBLE
He left Bonn Sunday with a hint that some conciliatory move toward the Russians may be in the making, but only if Russia also is in a conciliatory mood.

His series of talks last week, Dulles said at the Bonn airport, "will help to assure that we shall be united and firm for our rights. That does not exclude being conciliatory, but it does exclude merely making concessions for which there is no counterpart."

Both German and American spokesmen said the Western powers still are far from agreement on a detailed policy on how to meet the Soviet challenge in Berlin. But they indicated progress was made.

Meanwhile Allied representatives here completed the drafting of a note to Russia proposing that a meeting be held on a wide range of German issues.

The Western foreign ministers may meet a few more times before meeting the Russians. No date has been fixed, but early May has been suggested.

That would be well in advance of the May 27 date originally fixed by the Russians for turning over to East Germany their powers controlling Allied access to Berlin.

Before he left for his European trip, Dulles told the House of Representatives foreign affairs committee he thinks the Russians will "keep the pressure on until the very last minute" in the Berlin situation. He called West Berlin a showcase of the free world which he said unnerves the communists.

But he said in reply to a question that the Western Allies are in complete agreement "on the basic proposition of standing firm in Berlin and, if need be, risking a war rather than being taken out of Berlin."

His testimony, made public during the weekend, also forecast a tougher Soviet line in the cold war.

These other problems seemed likely to get attention from Dulles:

1. Russia's weekend denunciation of a tape recording which the United States said shows that Russian fighter planes shot down an unarmed American military transport last Sept. 2. The state department said it was shocked that Russia would claim the transcript was a forgery.
2. Reports of United States-British differences over how to meet a Communist blockade of West Berlin should that develop in May or June as a result of Soviet efforts to force the Western powers to withdraw from the city.
3. The possibility of an "early breakdown of East-West negotiations at Geneva for a ban on nuclear weapons tests enforced by a world-wide international inspection system. Moscow charged late last week that the United States attitude on various issues before the conference made agreements impossible.
